Terms and Conditions of the Warwick Business School Change our Space competition
Please read the briefing sheet/webpage, FAQs and terms and conditions prior to entry.

The brief:
Create the concept for a piece of artwork that represents Warwick Business School’s CORE values of curiosity, openness, restlessness, and excellence, and champions our Change Maker ideology.
Your concept should help people see our school values in a visual and dynamic way. Your design will need to be large enough to cover a space of 2m x 2m. The end result may be created using any practical media, so do specify what your ideal final materials will be.
Your entry should include a rough sketch of your concept, and/or a written description of up to 500 words.

The winning piece:
The winning piece may be photographed and used in print materials, as well as being displayed at the discretion of WBS. It will remain the property of Warwick Business School.
The winning artist will receive £1,000 for their artwork. The winning piece will be displayed at Warwick Business School. It may also be utilised within the School’s advertising and promotional activity.
Two runner up prizes of £500 and £250 will also be awarded for second and third place respectively.

Entry criteria:
The competition is open to all current students of The University of Warwick in the 2018/19 academic year. Entries should be sent to changeourspace@wbs.ac.uk. Only one prize will be awarded per winning entry.

Guidelines for submission:
Closing date for receipt of entries is 12pm, 21 March 2019. No entries received past this date will be considered for short-listing. Please submit your concept via email, along with your name, primary email address and a contact telephone number. This data will only be used internally to contact those who have been short-listed.

Entry fee:
There is no entry fee, and Warwick Business School will provide the final materials of production for this artwork.

Judging:
The final decision regarding the suitability of all artwork will be made by panel of qualified judges chaired by the Dean of Warwick Business School. We reserve the right not to award the prize if none of the concepts are deemed suitable.

Recognition:
There will be a prize of £1,000 for the winning concept, and a one week internship with the WBS graphic design team. There will also be two runner up prizes of £500 and £250 awarded for second and third place respectively. Prizes will be presented when the winner and runners up are announced on 17 May 2019. Only one prize will be awarded per winning entry.
The winning artwork and the associated copyright will become the property of WBS. The winner’s names may be included in any publicity in press and media, both online and in print.
