About WBS

Warwick Business School is the largest department of the University of Warwick. It was created as the School of Industrial and Business Studies (SIBS) in 1967 and took its present name in 1988.

WBS is situated on an attractively landscaped university campus of 300 hectares, three miles from Coventry city centre. We are served by Birmingham International Airport just 20 minutes’ drive away, with London one hour by train. The historic towns of Stratford upon Avon, Leamington, Kenilworth and Warwick are all within a twenty-mile radius.

Excelling at research and teaching

- We strive for excellence in research and teaching and can genuinely claim to be home to some of the world’s best researchers and teachers.

- Search our research here
- Search our staff here

Excelling at recruiting the brightest students

- The lure of working with top-class scholars, real world experts, means we always attract the very best candidates at undergraduate, Masters, and Doctoral level.
- See our courses here

Excelling at serving business

- We serve business in many ways – making our research accessible; working with business to produce research that has real impact; providing the very best talent to recruit into organisations; and helping develop talent within organisations.
- See our services for business here

Excelling in breaking new ground

- More than all of this, we believe in the power of creativity, of human imagination to do new things, to see things differently.

Accreditation and rankings

WBS is the first business school in the UK to be accredited, in 2000, by all three premier international management education bodies:

- European Foundation for Management Development’s quality inspectorate, EQUIS.
- The Association of MBAs, based in the UK.
- AACSB International – the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, based in the USA. WBS was the first UK institution to attain this accreditation

Current details of our placing in the various media-based rankings can be found here.

The Dean

The current Dean of Warwick Business School, Professor Andy Lockett, took up his post in August 2016 and set a clear vision and mission.

Vision: To be a world leader in business education, research and engagement, helping to create a better global society.

Mission

- To produce and disseminate world-class, cutting edge research that shapes the way organisations operate and businesses are led and managed
- To produce world-class, socially responsible, creative leaders and managers who think on a global scale, regardless of the size of their organisation
- To engagemeaningfully with business and government to create a better society
- To provide a lifelong return on investment for students and alumni

Biography

Professor Andy Lockett has been at the forefront of the school’s mission to produce world-class, cutting edge research. His work on strategy and entrepreneurship has given him a worldwide reputation, with leading technology executives voting him one of the world’s top 100 professors in the field, while he was also identified as one of the top 50 Technology Innovation Management scholars in the world.

Andy has published extensively in leading business and management journals, working in partnership with organisations across the private, public and third sectors.

Prior to joining WBS, Andy worked at the University of Nottingham and progressed to the rank of full Professor. During his time at WBS, Andy has held a number of management roles including Associate Dean and Deputy Dean as well as leading the Research agenda.
